

Certified Extended Support Program for OEMs

Protect Your Customer and Brand

Today's OEM faces more threats than ever before. Third-party vendors frequently appeal to your customers with rock-bottom prices — but when things go wrong, it's your reputation that suffers. As an OEM, you need to safeguard the integrity of your brand and extend the ROI of your end-customers' investments. Shyft Global Services helps you do just that. Through our product and customer management services, you can expand your relationship with your customers while also protecting them from the risks of third-party and counterfeit parts.

Achieve Your Goals With Our Certified Extended Support Program (CESP)

Shyft brings you end-to-end management services throughout the product and customer lifecycle. Our goal is simple: Free up your resources so you can focus on the strategy of your business instead of the granular details. Right now, Shyft is helping many of the world's top OEMs achieve increased revenue, faster time to market, greater cost savings and reduced complexity. And we're here to help you do the same, and more.

Turn Our High-Value Services Into Superior Business Outcomes

With Shyft, you and your end-users get quality service delivered by highly responsive, multi-platform-certified technicians. Our CESP enables you to take care of all your customers — large and small — while also preserving the trust and commitment of your reseller partners.

Specifically, the Shyft CESP Helps You By:

- Keeping customers in touch with your technology updates
 - Encouraging your customers to renew for authorized service
 - Generating leads to reacquire customers who have left for third-party maintenance
 - Delivering fully authorized service for shared customers
 - Assisting your resellers with customer retention
 - Reducing churn and increasing renewals for OEM service
 - Recertifying end-of-lease systems to reduce parallel market supply
 - Ensuring continued customer satisfaction with authorized service
